

Wiener Library Travelling Exhibition

Exhibition Information

The Wiener Library is Britain's leading archive on the Holocaust and Nazi era, and for over 70 years has played an instrumental role in providing material for educational resources within this subject area. Our unique collections and extensive experience in this area guarantee an exhibition that is both challenging and informative.

'Never Again? Thinking about the Holocaust' has been designed by the Wiener Library as a way for other organisations and institutions to educate and inform their audiences regardless of space and budgets available. The exhibition uses the holdings of the Wiener Library to encourage people to think critically about the issues raised by the Holocaust and genocide. Questions such as:

- Have attitudes towards refugees and asylum seekers changed since the 1930s?
- Does propaganda no longer exist? Or is its potential actually greater than before?
- Can monuments and ceremonies to remember the victims of the Holocaust and genocide help to prevent future mass killings?

Exhibition Details

The exhibition consists of five double-sided exhibition stands, designed to work independently, allowing the exhibition to travel to different sized venues. Each stand has two panels – the front and the back – but again these are self-contained, and can be displayed on their own if, for example, the exhibition needs to be placed against a wall. The hirer of the exhibition must always include at least one panel from the introductory stand:

- Introduction
Panel One: Introduces the Wiener Library and the exhibition – its aims and layout.
Panel Two: Examples of materials held at the Wiener Library

But can select any number of the following topic stands to accompany it:

- Refugees
Panel One: Refugees and Asylum Seekers
Panel Two: Children as Refugees
- Commemoration
Panel One: Commemoration
Panel Two: Memorials
- Propaganda
Panel One: Nazi Propaganda
Panel Two: Radio Propaganda
- Justice
Panel One: War Crimes, Genocide and Justice
Panel Two: The Legacy of Nuremberg

The Library recommends that there are a minimum of two additional stands, and is happy to provide further advice on relevant combinations if required.

Hire Information

The exhibition is available to all educational institutions, community organisations and public venues free of charge on the signing of a loan agreement (available from the Library). It is available for a minimum of two weeks, and a maximum of one month. If you would like to negotiate an alternative loan period, please contact the Library directly.

Once you have chosen a time you would like to hire 'Never Again?', a loan agreement will be sent and, on receipt of the signed agreement and payment of a £100 refundable deposit, the booking will be confirmed. Wiener Library staff will then liaise with you to organise the collection of the exhibition, the provision of any associated materials, and answer any questions you might have.

Insurance and Deposit

A deposit of £100 is required to confirm a booking of the exhibition. This money will be held by the Library until the end of the loan period when the full amount will be refunded dependent on the exhibition being returned in the same condition in which it was loaned.

As part of the loan agreement, the hirer will agree to take full responsibility for the exhibition during the loan period. The Library does not insist on the hirer taking out specific insurance, but if damage or loss occurs, the Library will expect reimbursement. Full details are provided in the loan agreement.

Delivery and Collection

Because the exhibition is offered free of charge, delivery and collection must be organised and paid for by the hirer. Each stand packs into a convenient padded carry bag, measuring approx 90cm x 30cm x 10cm and will fit easily into the boot of a small car.

Collection and delivery times will be arranged with the hirer, and administration charges may apply if these are not adhered to. The exhibition can be collected from the Library in person, or the Library can recommend a courier service to deliver the exhibition. The hirer must arrange for the exhibition to be returned within the arranged time slot.

Technical Information

The exhibition stands are floor-mounted, and require no extra additional fixtures or fittings. The dimensions of each stand are supplied below:

Panel Specifications
Upright Panel Measurements	2.23m x 0.8m
Base Dimensions	0.85m x 0.25m
Weight	Approx 6kg

The exhibition is very easy to set up. It can be installed by one person and, depending on the number of panels hired, should take no more than 15 minutes. A full manual covering installation will be supplied with the exhibition.

Support Materials

The Library is happy to provide pdfs of an A5 colour leaflet and an exhibition reading list that can be printed and distributed by the hirer. Some venues may wish to produce their own associated materials, and the Library will be happy to provide images/logos for this. If you would like to produce alternative materials, please discuss this with the Library staff.

Further Information

The exhibition is available for hire in the UK until 2010. To enquire about availability and discuss hire terms, please contact Bridget McGing on 020 7636 7247 or bmcing@wienerlibrary.co.uk.
